WIRES CROSSED

A Cornell engineer boarded the train at Buffalo, and, deciding to grab a couple of drinks, liberally tipped the six-foot porter to put him off at Ithaca.

"I'm a very sound sleeper," he said, "and you must take no notice of my protest. Seize me and put me out on the platform."

The next morning he awoke to find the train pulling into Grand Central station. Raging with fury, he found the porter and began to bawl him out in strong language.

"Sub," said the porter calmly, "you've got a whole of a temper, but it ain't nothing compared with the young feller I put off at Ithaca."—Wartime Keel.

AGE WILL BE SERVED

The war is helping at least one class: the aging ballplayers. The year 1944 will see more 40-year-olds in the big league than ever before. Johnny Cooney of Brooklyn is 43, and will be back. So will Paul Waner at 41, striving to add to his life-time total of more than 3,000 hits.

Al Simmons, also 41, is returning to the scene of his original triumphs, the Philadelphia Athletics. Bill Dickey of the New York Yankees will be playing his 22nd year in organized baseball, and Mel Ott of the New York Giants his 19th. Normally many of the above would find the pace to swift; with a manpower shortage they can hold their own.

Last year's teams, says Ford Frick, president of the National league, were made up of "pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, some 4-F's, some plus-38's, and some sub-19's." This year will see fewer fathers and more of the others.

If the war goes on, 81-year-old Connie Mack, who is managing the Athletics from the bench, may have to hook up his old catcher's mask and get behind the bat.—Sanford Herald.

CAUSE FOR GRIEF

Sir Thomas Lipton, while visiting Scotland, met an old friend whom he had not seen since they parted at school together.

"And how's George?" asked Sir Thomas, referring to an old friend known to both of them.

"Oh," was the reply, "he's dead long, long ago, and I shall never cease to mourn him."

Sir Thomas was deeply touched, and said consolingly, "I never knew you had so much respect for him as all that."

"Na, na, you're wrong there," was the discomfited reply. "It weren't the respect I had for him, na; that; but, you see, I married his widow."—Collier County News.

EDISON JOKE

The man who had given Thomas Edison his first lessons in telegraphy met the great inventor many years later and complimented him on the expert manner in which he still handled the key.

"I practice once in a while to maintain my speed," said Edison. "But actually I can send a message from New York to Boston without any wires at all."

"Is that so?" said the other admiringly.

"Simple," replied Edison. "I just put it in an envelope and mail it."—Milwaukee Journal.

Twenty British naval officers, taken prisoner, lost their watches during the action. One of the party wrote a Swiss firm, asking for new timepieces, but pointed out that the only security they could give was their word of honor to pay at the end of the war.

In due course the watches, valued at $800, arrived at the prisoners' camp.—Daily Mirror (London).

Greetings to Members

—OF—

Pahokee Lions Club IN UNCLE SAM'S SERVICE

Dear Boys:

A few weeks ago Lion Lewis Friend conducted you on a tour of our fair city's business section, incidentally he was accused of forgery by some of the members of the club, but he that as it may, my purpose is to show you the progress and change in our residential section. There is practically no outward sign of change and if you could motor leisurely with me over newly resurfaced Bacon Point Road, (for there is an election scheduled for this year you know and our roads are being slicked up a bit), you would hardly notice any change at all, but there are a number of changes on the papers which go to prove my point (if I ever had one), that Pahokee is progressing. Its citizens are becoming home owners and homeowners, instead of tenants and share croppers.

Well, first of all, as we motor along from the Point we find that "Major" McLarty is in the real estate business. He has sold a lot of his small cottages to residents of our flourishing colored town—Bacon picking is fast becoming the leading industry in our section. Another intangible change is the ownership of the Nola B. Smith property. Lawrence Jaudon has proclaimed it as his domicile. You see he has made dough in more than one way this year.

A prominent change has occurred in the old Hunter place, Lion D. S. Spooner has established his den there and has also scored an arrange across the road for a private hunting ground (Rabbits are plentiful you know and gasoline is much to scarce for hunting trips these days).

W. R. Wilson has title to the Bacon home now and George Mead, who finally succumbed to matrimonial bacillus, has feathered a love nest in the Bishop apartment and now "Sister Sude's" sewing shirts for George.

I think you will agree with me that this is the climax to the Bacon Point trip so we go hurriedly to East Main Street, where we find that Sam McKinstry Sr., has purchased the Bishop property, across from the school.

A new building is going up on the school grounds too. The PFA chapter under the direction of its adviser, W. M. DuBoise, is erecting a PFA class room and shop. It is located on the old tennis court near the High School building.

The Elks now own the American Legion Grounds. They have torn down the old hall and have erected open air bleachers, for what, no one has determined yet unless they plan to take care of the overflow from the crowded hall on dance nights here. Incidentally the American Legion is making its home at the Carpenter's Union hall.

Clevo Cruthird, honorably discharged by Uncle Sam, is rationing gasoline and manuring cars again at the same old stand. D. D. Chaudill has sold his property on the lake side of the ridge to Sam (Skinny) McKinstry Jr., and has bought land on the ridge side. At present he is residing in Canal Point. That's how scarce houses are in Pahokee.

Just one more thing that might interest you. We had a surprise visit from Capt. and Mrs. Ed Siam at our meeting this week. He spoke very interestingly of his experience as chaplain in the Army. He looks swell in his Captain's uniform but he is the same old Ed. Mrs. Siam said that Margie put it this way, "He may be a captain in the Army but he is just a luck private at home."

Robert J. Schroeder.

O. W. Giddens has returned to his home in Canal Point from West Palm Beach where he has been a patient in a hospital. Preston White is seriously ill at his home in Canal Point.

Willie Tullis has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he spent several weeks taking health treatments at the springs there.

They've been Friends for 30 YEARS

Many a Floridian who became acquainted with JAX, the Bear of Friendship, when the Jax Brewing Company was founded 30 years ago, will tell you that JAX was a great bear. That JAX is a great bear now.

This fine, golden brew has been a favorite for layers since 1914.

Then, at now, it was carefully brewed from materials by skilled brewers. These materials are still making JAX.

So now, those who appreciate superb quality in a beer said "Make mine JAX!"

And then, as now, it was true that no better beer could be bought, regardless of price.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Practically every newspaper reader in the United States has read of the atrocities practiced upon our heroic fighters who were captured by the, so called, "Boss of Heaven." In cold brutality, murderous hate and beastly. Many have doubted some of these stories, not being able to visualize a human being possessed of such Satanic cruelty.

The Owl and Sunday-Morning screening at the Prince Theatre will answer in part some of the questions arising from these stories. This picture is "Behind the Rising Sun." It was written by James R. Young, a world correspondent who spent eight years in Japan and who was made a prisoner there because of the frankness of his news dispatches.

"Beyond the Rising Sun" stars Margo, Tom Neal, J. Carroll Nash, Robert Ryan and Gloria Holden. It is the authentic story of the inside workings of the land of the Nips. No punches are pulled. It is cold blooded. Because it is the truth, and nothing can be more cold than the stark truth.

"Beyond the Rising Sun" is a picture that every lover of Freedom—Every believer in Justice—Every Christian should see. It is a picture that will give you a better understanding of what we are facing before the word "Victory" is written in the book of our good deeds.

Tuesday-Wednesday Edward G. Robinson returns to the Prince screen in another epic of the sea under the title "Destroyer." In support of Robinson are Glenn Ford, Margaret Chapman and Edgar Buchanan, with many other well known featured players.

This picture took a year in the making and was slated for a Sunday-Monday run, but has been changed to the above days, which makes it a mid-weeker. But not a weak picture, by any means—in fact it is a dynamic, terrific, explosive and tells a story that should win the heart of every lover of hot blooded adventure.

Thursday-Friday continues to follow the sea for we have an action picture coming in on these days under the title "Submarine Alert," which stars Richard Arlen, Wendy Barrie, and Roger Pryor and is said to be loaded from the title to the "end," story with action designed to keep one right on the edge of the seat.

I presume many of you members of the "Six Shooters Club" remember Dick Foran, who some time back was a top ranking star of the cow boys—Then he went and threw his six guns into a corner and joined those higher up players in "dizzy love stories." Well, the management has looked some of Dick's best re-issues, and the first one in is "Song of the Saddle," which by the bye, was one of the best Dick made. I'm sure every member will appreciate this show.

Well, folks, there are but 10 more days to go in this race to Washington I've entered. And during those ten days I've really got to sell some War Bonds.

Funny thing about the contest is, it's not how much money I raise for the drive, it's HOW MANY BONDS I SELL. IN FACT I'LL HAVE TO SELL MORE THAN ONE BOND FOR EVERY SEAT IN THE HOUSE TO HAVE A CHANCE OF WINNING.

Everyone has sure come out strong for me during this race. But for a final appeal—Can't you see your way clear to buy one more $25 War Bond before the last day of February—Check the old finances and see what you can do.

If you can buy another one, remember, you have to buy it from the theatre in order for me to get credit in the drive—And you get a complimentary ticket with each sale.

Well—see you at the movies May!

Would Provide Plan For Soldier Vote

WASHINGTON, February 17.—(FNS) — Representative Emory Price of Florida has drafted a bill on soldier voting which he intends to introduce as a substitute for the House Elections Committee Bill.

"I believe it is impossible to pass a federal law which would provide a method of voting in the primaries of the 48 states," Price said. "However, if we provide a simple method of voting for federal offices in the general election then we have simplified matters for the states which wish to provide their own primary election laws."

Molasses For Feed Available At U.S.S.C.

CLEWISTON, Feb. 17.—(FNS) — A recent order of the WEB permits the United States Sugar Corporation to supply up to 100,000 gallons of blackstrap molasses for cattle feeding to holders of Florida AAA Committee, certificates.

The Molasses is for direct sale to feeders and is not available for the manufacture of mixed feeds according to H. G. Clayton, State AAA Administrator. A feeder, however, having received a supply of this molasses, may take it to a custom mixing plant for mixture with roughage feeds.

The molasses can be obtained in tank-car or 1,000 gallon truck lots until May 1, officials said.

One Track . . . plus Another to Grow on!

About six-sevenths of the railroad mileage of this country consists of single track. Only one-seventh consists of two tracks or more.

Years ago when the Florida East Coast Railway built its second main line track, it gave the East Coast of Florida an extra track to grow on. Resulting improvement in passenger and freight service attracted a steady growth in population, industry and tourist patronage.

Today, with other forms of transportation curtailed, this double tracked railroad is proving a valuable wartime asset. In addition to supplying your normal needs, its ability to handle a huge volume of extra traffic has made the East Coast of Florida hum with vital war and agricultural activity.

Tomorrow, too, your community will be fortunate in having this double tracked railroad, paving the way for new gains in population and industry the moment peace returns.

The men and women of the Florida East Coast Railway are fellow citizens of yours, vitally interested in and constantly working for the progress of this favored territory which they serve.
